WARTBURG
COLLEGE
FOUNDED 1852

From the everyday occurrence to the major campus events, an integral part of our campus life is deeply embedded in traditions.
Through these traditions we enrich our experiences and we pattern our design for life.

May Term

"The whole city is a classroom." So wrote one of the 22 students who lived and studied in Chicago from May 4 to 29. Their course, "A Study of Urbanized Society," examined such areas as Black Power, politics, welfare, and community organization.

May Term enables the student to devote full time to one subject or research problem. Whether working on statistical methods in Becker Hall of Science, canoeing down the Cedar River, building sets for Touring Theatre, or observing a "cottage meeting" at the Boys' Training School in Eldora, Iowa, May Term students are engaged in an unusual educational experience.

Galen Eiben, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Biology

Arlyn Ristau, M.S., Instructor of Biology

Clifford Wetmore, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Biology

Michael Bowser, M.A., Instructor of Biology

Biology

Aspects of the relationships between houseflies and parasitic wasps have been studied this year by Dr. Eiben. Working under an NSF grant, he has been assisted by two students. Dr. Wetmore continued his study of lichens in preparation for a paper to be published. Dr. Hertel wrote and published a lab manual for the conservation course while on leave during 1969.

The National Institute of Health awarded a grant to the department to improve Wartburg's medical technology and physical therapy programs, which will be under the direction of Mr. Ristau.

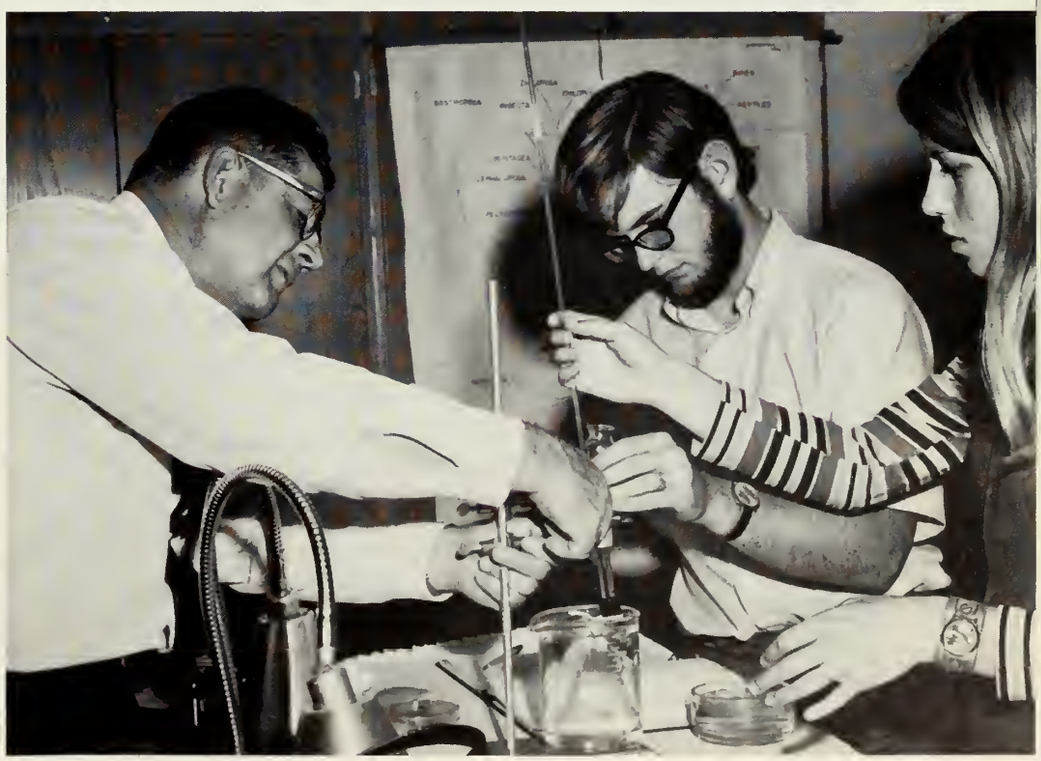

Several students traveled to Texas to study the ecology of the region during the 1969 May Term. A similar program was again planned for the 1970 term and plans were being undertaken for a trip to the Tropical Research Institute in the Panama Canal Zone.

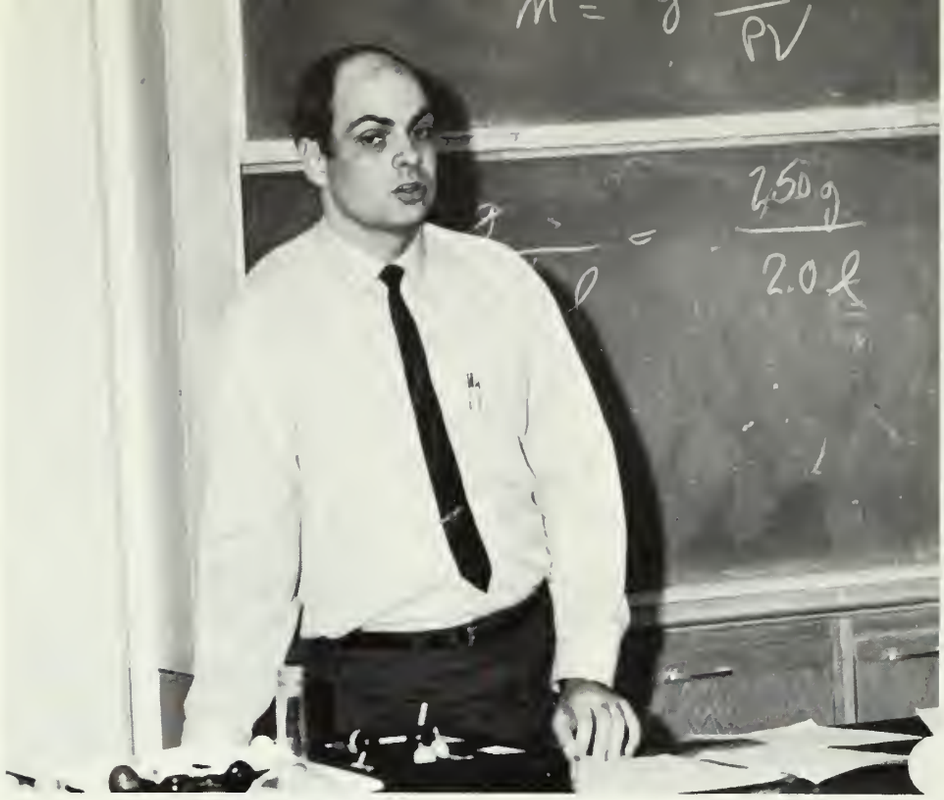

Elmer Hertel, Ph.D., Professor of Biology and Chairman of the Department of Biology

Richard Torgerson, M.A., Instructor in Biology

Leo Petri, Ph.D., Professor of Biology

Warren Zemke, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Chemistry

Chemistry

Involved in the development of new syntheses of para-nitrophenacyl esters of amino acids to be used in biochemistry for synthesizing peptides and protein, Rob Anderson carried on research at the Pierce Chemical Company. Several students working at the Argonne Laboratory identified chemical compounds by modern instrumental methods. Lynn Koob, working under an NSF grant, used nuclear magnetic resonance and infrared spectroscopy to investigate the interactions of peptide bonds and denaturing agents in the breakdown of proteins. Lynn received the national 1969 C&EN Award of Merit.

Arthur Vandenbroucke, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Chemistry

David Hampton, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Chemistry and Chairman of the Department of Chemistry

William Azbell, M.A., Associate Professor of Physics and Chairman of the Department of Physics

Gerald Tebben, M.A., Assistant Professor of Geography

Physics

Utilizing the planetarium atop the Becker Hall of Science, the physics department offered a new course in astronomy. On the 24-foot dome, physical science students and groups from the Waverly area also viewed programs such as "The Changing Concept of the Universe."

Expanded use of equipment enriched laboratory work. The department added an air track, used for experiments in mechanics, and a gas laser, used to study interference and defraction of light. Two tektronix oscilloscopes were added to the electronics laboratories.

In May Term physics majors were again involved in research in solid state physics.

Donald Roiseland, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Physics

Business Economics

Previously combined into one major, economics and business administration are now separated. The faculty expanded to include Mr. Andrew Bacdayan.

Efforts were made to enlarge the Corporation Education Program, which involves students in on-the-job training in local industry. John Deere and Company was instrumental in offering courses in management application.

Students spent May Term in cities such as Chicago, Des Moines, Sioux City, and Waverly.

Tae Won Kim, M.A., Assistant Professor of Business Administration and Economics

Andrew Bacdayan, M.S., Assistant Professor of Business Administration and Economics

Melvin Kramer, Ph.D., Professor of Business Administration and Economics, Department Chairman

Foreign Languages

Active in updating its course offerings, the foreign language department also added a new professor, Mr. Allen Viehmeyer.

For the first time, summer school students were able to complete two terms of French, German, or Spanish in ten weeks.

During May, June, and July of 1970, students will study in France and Germany. They will receive three credits for ten weeks in a European college and two weeks of independent travel.

A change in the distribution requirements permitted the substitution of mathematics or logic credits for a foreign language.

Margaret Vandenbroucke, M.A., Instructor in French

Muriel Moe, M.S., Assistant Professor of Business Administration and Economics

Albert Riep, Ph.D., Professor of Modern Languages and Department Chairman

Jose Lobato, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Spanish
Hermon George, Jr., M.A., Instructor in Spanish

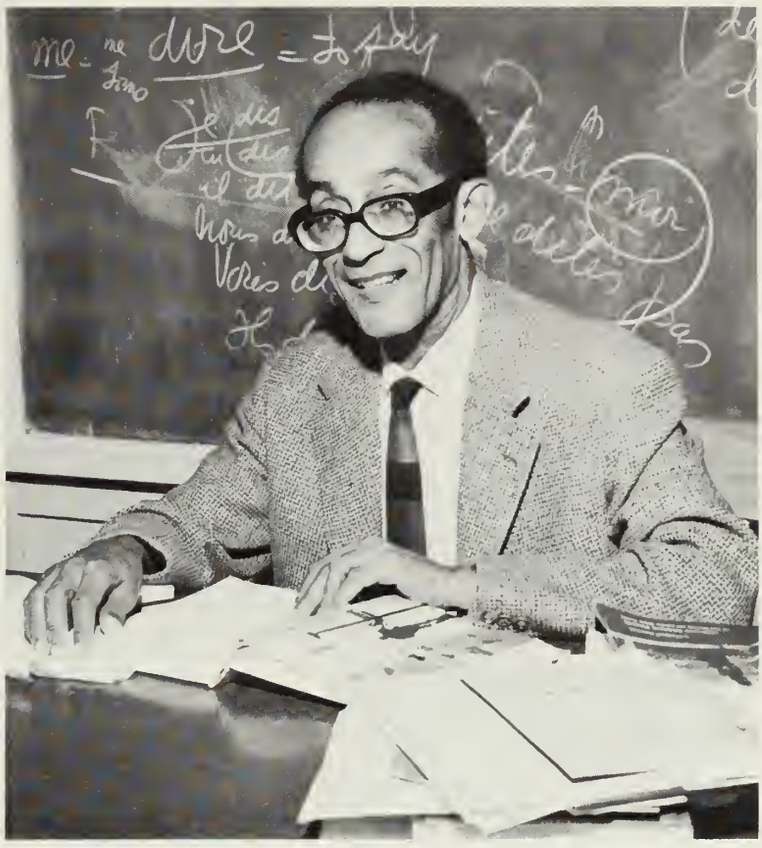

Alfred Haefner, Ph.D., Professor of Greek

Raymond Harms, Th.D., Associate Professor of Ancient Languages and Religion

Patricia Kingsley, M.A., Instructor in French

Eric Timmer, Licentiate in Law; Assistant Professor of French

Ronald Rockwell, M.A., Instructor in German

L. Allen Viehmeyer, M.A. Instructor in German

English

As the fall term ended, freshmen were eagerly awaiting the results of the Houghton-Mifflin College English Placement Test. This and themes written in the Introduction to Literature course largely determined whether a student was required to take English composition, a new plan this year.

Miss Moehl, on leave during Fall Term, worked in the Teacher-Trainers program at the University of Minnesota.

Under the direction of Dr. Kildahl, Lois Schrage chose the new alternate route to graduation and researched the history of medieval and sixteenth century English literature.

Phillip Kildahl, Ph.D., Professor of English and Chairman of the Department of English

Charles Frelund, M.A., Assistant Professor of Art

Harold Sundet, M.A., Assistant Professor of Music

Art

Music

Assisted by the Castle Club, Mr. Frelund arranged a traveling exhibition of works by Midwest artists. One of its aims was to call attention to Wartburg's expanding art program and proposed building.

Sixty members of the Wartburg Choir, under the direction of Dr. Fritschel and Dr. Anderson, traveled and performed in Europe during May Term.

Dean Tellefson, choosing the alternate route to graduation, composed a musical editorial, "Get It Together." The Castle Singers presented this statement on hunger, cities, big-business church, campus revolution, and love to the MENC convention in Chicago, Illinois.

Warren Schmidt, Ph.D., Professor of Organ and Church Music

Franklin Williams, Ed.D., Assistant Professor of Music

James Fritschel, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Music History and Theory

Robert Lee, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Instrumental Music and Chairman of the Department of Music

C. Robert Larson, Ph.D., Professor of Music

Jean Madsen, M.A., Instructor in Piano and Voice

Arthur Madsen, M.M., Assistant Professor of Piano

Maynard Anderson, Ed.D., Associate Professor of Music Education and Voice

Mary Hale, M.S.E., Assistant Professor of Education

Richard Wiederanders, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Education and Director of Educational Media. Donald Vetter, M.A., Assistant Professor of Education

Kay Kraft, M.S., Assistant Professor of Education

Education

Psychology

Frederick Kopp and Dean Schroeder joined the psychology department this year. A new course, "Behavior Disorders of Children," was co-sponsored by Wartburg and the Mental Health Institute of Independence, Iowa. The eleven students of this class worked with a child on a one-to-one basis, attended lectures, and observed psychiatric interviewing, testing, and psychotherapy.

New additions to the education department were Mary Hale, Kay Kraft, and Marjorie Shaw, while Mr. Winkler was doing graduate study at the University of Indiana. In order to permit the student teachers to see themselves work, Dr. Wiederanders taped them in action with the department's new video-tape recorder. By micro-teaching at St. Paul's Day School, elementary education majors were able to gain practical application in language arts and methods. Twenty-one Wartburg students, under the work-study program, worked in the various Waverly schools assisting the teachers in routine classroom activities.

Frederick Kopp, M.S.,
Instructor in Psychology

Ernest Yunghans, Ed.D., Associate Professor of Psychology
Wilmut G. Fruehling, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology and Department Chairman

History

Expanding to include a new major and three new professors, the history department provided a broad view of man's environment.

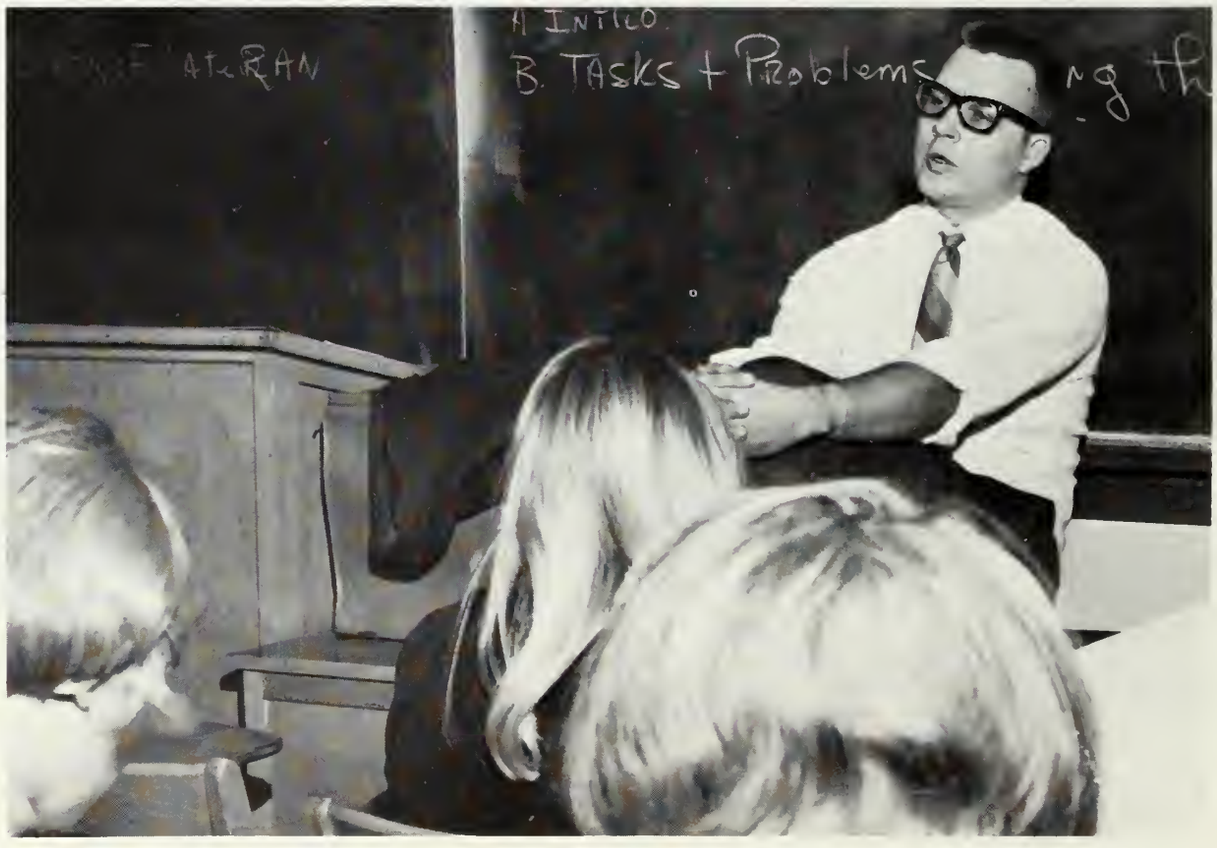

New professors Burghgraef and Schuessler taught Asian and European history. Mr. Tebben conducted a night class in geography. Remaining on the staff as a part-time professor, Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg taught an American History class while Mr. Raymond Norheim took a leave of absence.

Long a part of the history department, political science was made a full major under the direction of Mr. Odone.

Under the supervision of Dr. Matthias, Kenneth Weitz participated in the new alternate route to graduation. His research was done on the Puritan Revolution.

Axel Schuessler, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of History

Robert Burghgraef, M.A., Instructor of History

Ronald Matthias, Ph.D., Associate Professor of History and Political Science and Department Chairman

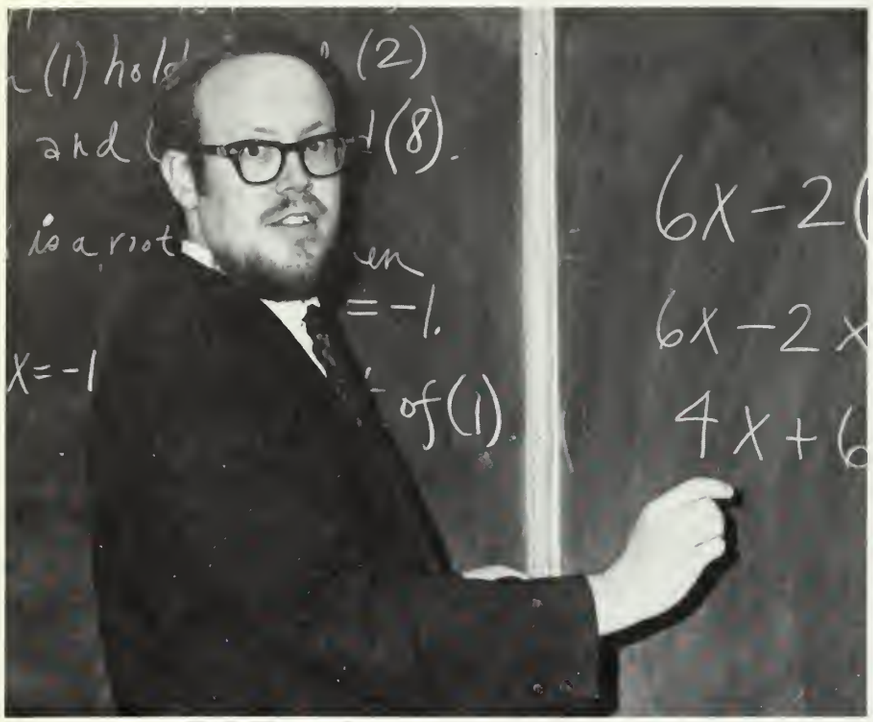

G. Rudolph Bjorgan, Ph.D.,
Professor of History and Political Science

Leslie Odone, M.A.,
Assistant Professor of Political Science

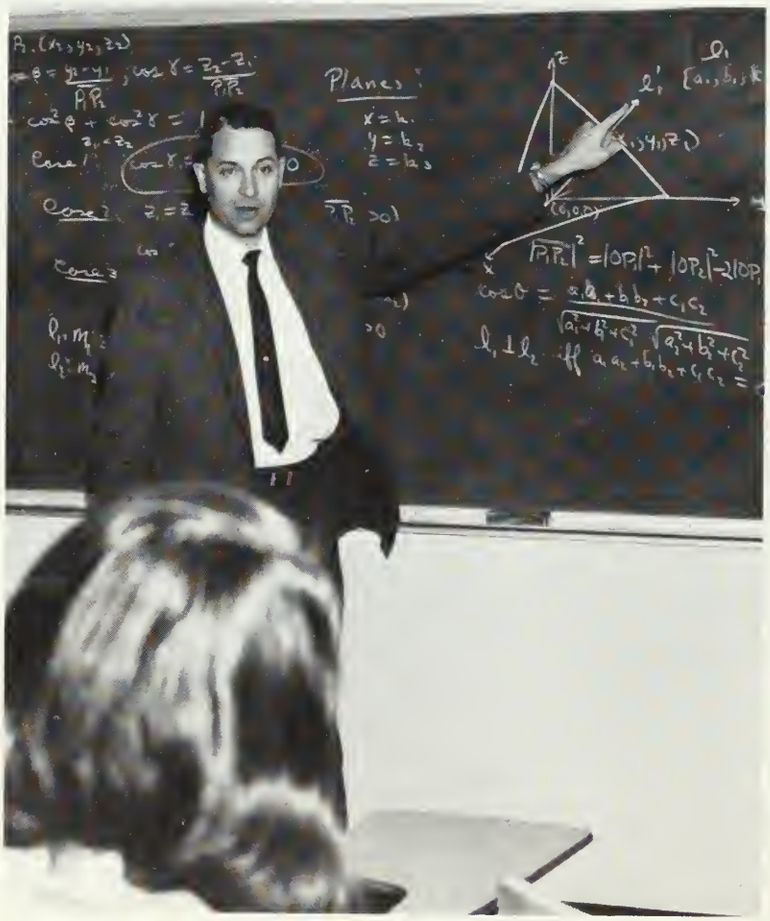

George Bridgman, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Mathematics

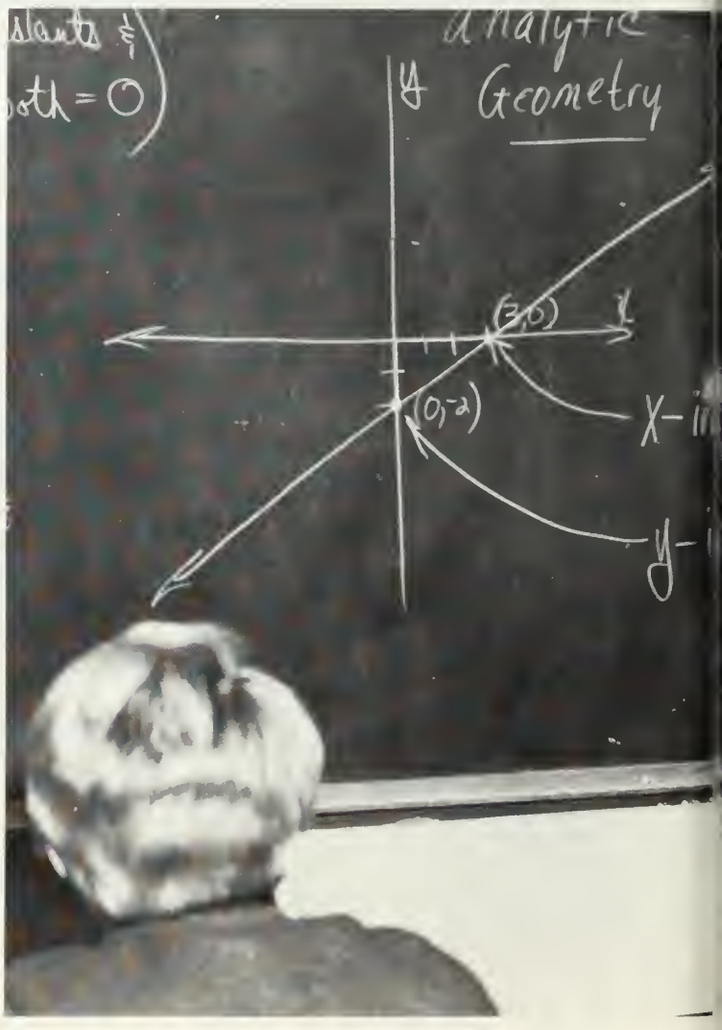

Avanche Gopalakrishna, Ph.D.,
Visiting Assistant Professor of Mathematics

Marvin Ott, M.A., Assistant Professor in Mathematics and Assistant Coach of Football

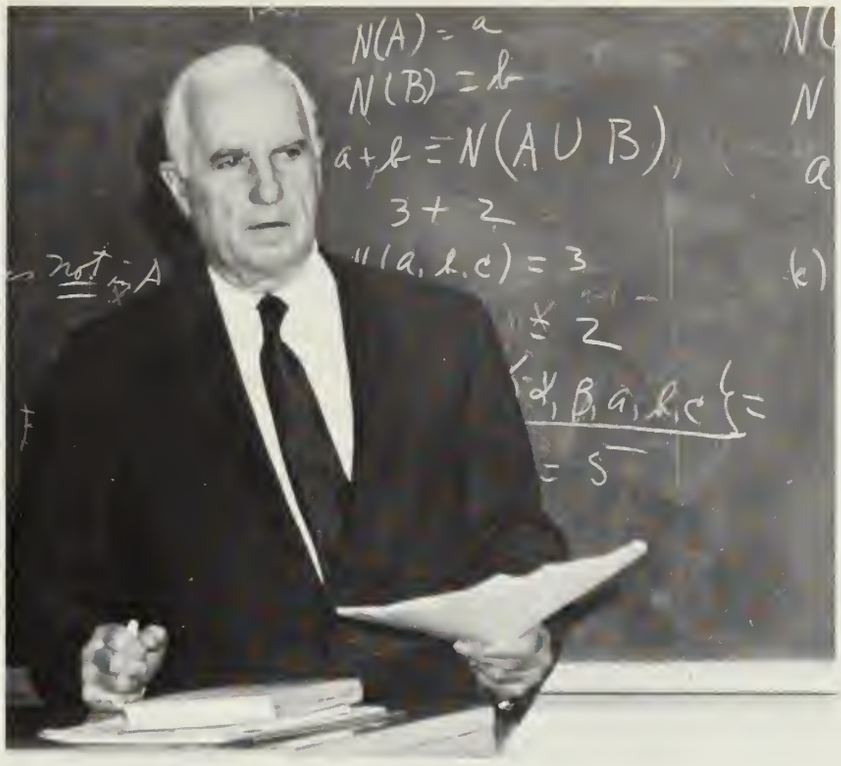

William Waltmann, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Mathematics

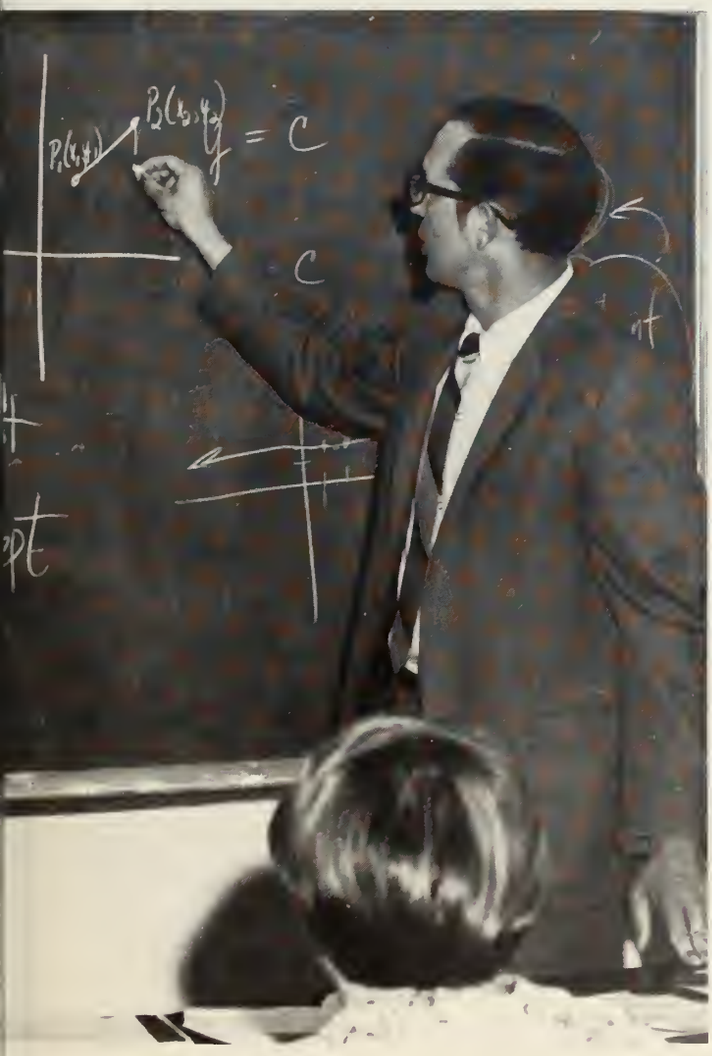

Mathematics

Pointing to its fine library on the second floor of Becker Hall of Science, the mathematics department boasts of a large collection of current periodicals. A card catalogue found there contains a complete listing of all mathematics books in the department plus those in Homuth Memorial Library.

Several steps were taken this year to strengthen the faculty. Mr. Ott was promoted to assistant professor. Three additions were made: Dr. Bridgman, Dr. Gopalakrishna, and Dr. A. W. Waltmann. These faculty members brought their varied backgrounds to monthly colloquia with upper division majors.

John Chellevold, Ph.D., Professor of Mathematics and Department Chairman

August Waltmann, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Mathematics

Karl Schmidt, Ph.D., Professor of Religion and Department Chairman

Philosophy

Religion

Enabling its students to think more critically, the philosophy department encourages projects such as Robert Fox's independent research in logic. During the year Professor Gumz added chapters on complex quantification to his book "Logic —Basic Techniques."

"Stressing the whole man," the religion department sent students to California, Arizona, Colorado, and Illinois during May Term. One of the main programs was in the inner city of Chicago. During the regular terms, "Christianity and Its Rivals" offered a study of alternate life styles—hippie, middle-class American, scientific, and revolutionary.

Herman Diers, M.A., Chaplain and Assistant Professor of Religion

Robert Dell, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Religion

Ronald Alexander, M.A., Assistant Professor of Religion

Frederick Gumz, Ph.D., Professor of Philosophy and Department Chairman

Waldemar Gies, M.A., Associate Professor of Religion

Marshall Johnson, Th.D.
Assistant Professor of Religion

Nancy Anderson, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Physical Education

Roger Bishop, P.E.D., Associate Professor of Physical Education and Chairman of the Department of Physical Education

Leland Bondhus, M.S., Assistant Professor of Physical Education

Richard Walker, M.S., Assistant Professor of Physical Education

Physical Education

Members of the 1969 May Term outdoor recreation class studied a developing aspect of physical education. After three weeks of campus preparation, they traveled in Minnesota by canoe and camped in the wilderness.

A summer course in school health, environment, and instruction was offered for the first time. Areas included were: personal and community health, the organization of a school health program, and methods and materials in health education.

During the fall, work was completed on the remodeling of the football stadium and the addition of Hertel Field—a complex of athletic fields.

Gordon Jeppson, M.S., Assistant Professor of Physical Education

Dorothy Roiseland, M.A., Instructor in Physical Education

John Kurtt, M.A., Assistant Professor of Physical Education

Social Work

Devoting November 20 to the study of poverty, welfare law, and urban problems, the social work department invited students and area residents to workshops and a welfare rights session. Robert Oberbillig of Legal Aid in Des Moines and John Tapscott of the Iowa Legislature were guest speakers.

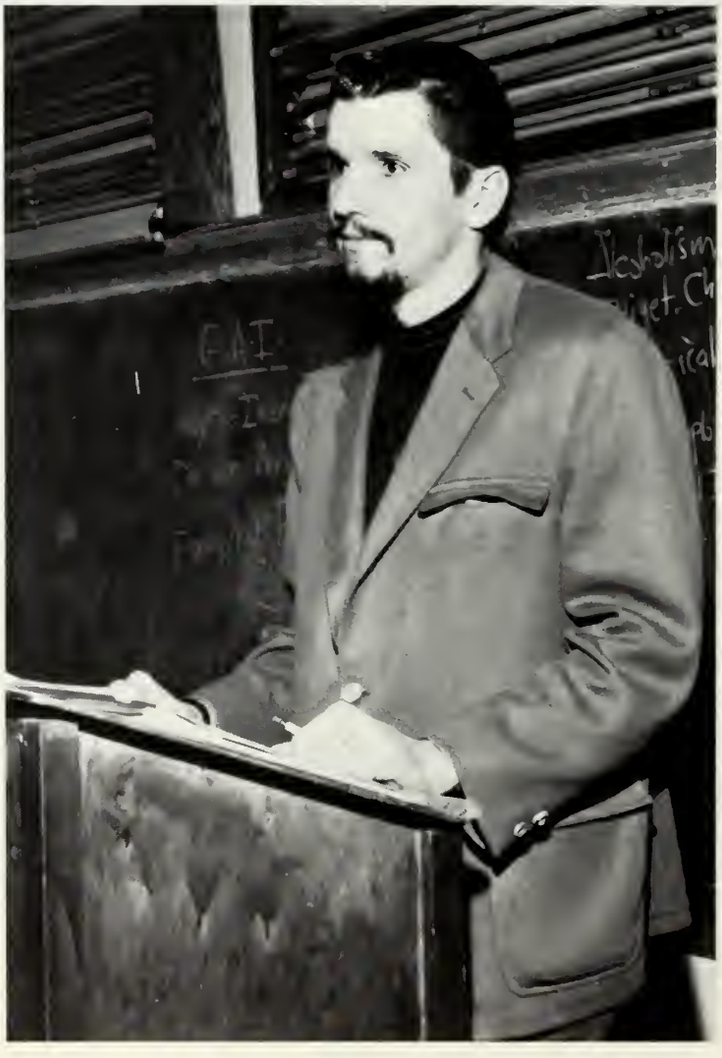

Illustrating the department's goal to "identify channels through which man can express a helpful concern for others," Mrs. Reppert and Mr. Lohman were assisted by students in writing a Welfare Rights Handbook, which was distributed to area welfare agencies.

Lola Reppert, M.S.W., Professor of Social Work and Department Chairman

Jerold Voss, M.S.W., Instructor in Social Work

Robert Lohman, B.A., Assistant Instructor in Social Work

Ralph Wedeking, B.D., Instructor in Sociology (part-time)

Richard Pederson, B.A., Instructor in Sociology

Lyle Blaede, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Sociology and Department Chairman

Sociology

Involved in the study of society, the sociology department emphasized America's cities during May Term, 1970. Dr. James Baines, visiting scholar, used Waterloo as a base of study while Mr. Pederson and the Urbanized Society class traveled to Chicago.

Outside speakers, such as minimum security prisoners from the Yellow River Forest Reserve, spoke to various classes.

During the latter part of the Winter Term, Mr. Wedeking's Introduction to Sociology class divided into four groups to play "Simulated Society." Each group had to create a society which would provide its people with basic necessities such as food and protection.

Speech Journalism

Throughout the Fall Term a reconstruction of the old Globe Theatre grew on the Little Theatre stage. This student creation was used in the Wartburg Players' production of "Othello" during a four-college Shakespearean Festival.

Plans for a touring theatre on the east coast were developed as May Term approached.

Reflecting the broad scope of journalism, May Term Extended Field Experience placed students in Waverly, Illinois, and Colorado. During the year, field trips to local newspapers and a radio station enriched journalism classes.

Associate Professor of English and Journalism

Mu Phi Epsilon

Beta Rho Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon stresses service by advancing music within the college and community. This year, the chapter decorated the Fine Arts building for the Christmas season and gave recitals for the public.

The highlight of the year was Beta Rho's sponsoring of a Sterling Staff Concert, performed by Dr. Marian Buck-Lew of the University of Iowa. She was the national winner in the Sterling Staff Auditions.

A.P.G.

Alpha Phi Gamma is a national honorary fraternity for students in journalism, organized to recognize individual ability and achievement and to establish relationships between students and members of the journalistic profession.

Alpha Phi Gamma publishes the college directory as one of its main projects, sponsors a Homecoming breakfast for APG alumni, sends a Christmas newsletter to former members, and is responsible for the annual press banquet.

Kappa Delta Pi

An honorary organization for education majors, Kappa Delta Pi's purpose is enrichment. The officers—president, Jan Goltz; vice-president, Linda Anderson; secretary, Mary Lou Thiele; and treasurer, Jerald Fuerstenburg—planned for an initiation banquet, an information luncheon, and several speakers from such places as the Piney Woods School for black students and Port Huron, Michigan. Mrs. Mary Louise Hale also spoke to the group of her experiences.

Remnants of the natural prairies of Iowa was the topic of Tri Beta's guest speaker Dr. Eilers, botanist from U.N.I. A member of the Apollo long-range planning commission, T. Cooper Evans lectured on the space program at another meeting.

Lectures were also given by members of the biology department. Mr. Torgerson told of his research on the life cycle and habits of army ants. Mr. Bowser presented a talk on smoking and pulmonary disorders.

Student members of Gamma Lambda lectured on their May Term and summer experiences. Ed Reedholm studied bird parasites, Jim Hartje investigated premature births, and Paul Koob went with the class to Texas.

Beanies and Diplomas Symbolize Wartburg Life

"I'm a poor, lowly, miserable Wartburg Squire."

Thumbs in ears and fingers on beanies, the new crop of freshmen cautiously crept across campus. Anyone could spot a frosh. From orange beanie to new school shoes, he stood out against upperclassmen in jeans and sweatshirts.

He was often seen in long lines printing his name and mumbling, "What's my ID number? What's my extension number? What's my room number? What's my name?" He spent hours lugging suitcases up the stairs to his room and then covering the bare walls with posters. He puzzled over the abundance of first names such as "Roy's," "Otto's," and "Fred's". He spent most of his time avoiding upperclassmen while upperclassmen spent their time searching for frosh.

The two groups faced each other at amalgamation, and then the beanies were gone. It was time for all to get down to the business of being a college student.

Classes, books, and homework—these took up time until early one morning when "Outfly" dawned on the campus.

Football was soon under way, bringing a vivid change of color to the campus. Red, orange, and yellow warmed the scene as thoughts turned to stuffing napkins into chickenwire and transforming a dorm floor into outerspace or the Great Pumpkin Patch. Homecoming came, bringing a bonfire, "Blast the Beavers" buttons, and Queen Karen Gronewald. The gray day was brightened by North Hall's pink elephant, Maxine, as she led the parade up Bremer Avenue.

Soon days grew cold and Dr. Hertel moved his conservation class indoors. Thoughts turned to Thanksgiving recess and then to the push toward finals. Students were still planning research papers as the rush of Christmas parties began. After shopping excursions downtown, they filled their rooms with evergreens, decorations, and hidden presents. Snow fell and the evening of Pi Sigma's Ball was like a Christmas card scene. Soft flakes glittered in the light as they clung to the girls' long skirts.

Beneath this tranquility lurked the curse of finals. The week loomed ahead and everyone made resolutions to study a little more and party a little less. After last-minute cramming, it was over. Time to go home.

Trumpet's January 10 issue set the Winter Term pace in these words: "Dean Earnest F. Oppermann has returned from his sabbatical. This fact strikes terror in the hearts of a few, while freshmen react with 'Who's Dean Oppermann, and what's a sabbatical?' "

Dean Oppermann made a get-acquainted tour of the campus, pronounced all well, and the term was under way.

Students took their places in ·miliar long lines to buy books, validate their meal tickets, and complete registration. They welcomed transfer students and exchangees from Paul Quinn College in Texas and wrote to those who had left Wartburg.

Study vows were soon forgotten as the new term began with a round of basketball games and sub-zero weather. Math majors busily computed the chill factor as janitors anxiously watched furnaces. There was snow and more snow and ice and wind . . . and no place to ski.

Nothing remained static as Concerned Students for Change published a list of proposals which were studied by students and legislative groups. The sophomore class voted to give away $600 from class funds, but became entangled in red tape.

Soon it was February 14, and Ecker's orange truck flew around campus delivering Valentine Bouquets. Mysterious notes reading "BAF is coming" appeared in each week's page.

Snow Weekend came with more snow and still no place to ski—only sidewalks on which to skate. Kathy Angell and Bob Brown reigned over a snow sculpture contest, Klondike races, and a dance. Lights burned late in neumann House; Fortress deadline time drew near.

Finally, after much suspense, BAF arrived. Band-Aid Follies, a variety show featuring comedy skits, faculty guests, and the Follies Dollies chorus line, displayed the band's versatility.

Lenten services pointed the way toward Easter as the counting days began. "In two months I'll be studying in Germany . . . In 61 days I'll be through with finals."

Trips to the treasurer's office to settle accounts and to the mail boxes to await answers to summer job applications marked time until spring.

The new season arrived with registration for Fall Term and another bout with finals. Then it was time for relaxation during spring break.

May Term meant a final class for departing seniors and a look back on everything Wartburg had been. It all began with initiation, moved through dances, movies, Out-fly, floats and sculptures, queens, and parties. Life at Wartburg meant cafe lines and mailbox crowds, classes, and organizations. It was a lot of fun and a lot of work. For the new freshmen the year meant one phase gone in their college career; for the seniors it meant the end.

Student Congregation

Shifting to an emphasis on people, Student Congregation sought to avoid a "big church" image. Breaking down the existing structure, the group opened to many students through action groups such as the Walk for Development.

The focus of worship was moved to the choral room of the Fine Arts building while another scene of action was opened in the resource center in the Student Union.

Experimenting with liturgy, the Student Congregation used services written by students, a Homecoming traditional service, a "Band Hymn Sing," and a Chi Rho candlelight church service.

ABOVE: Dale Ziemer, Sandy Baumann, Duane Neugebauer, Allan Wendland, and Paul Johnsen set up the choral room.

Senate

"Senate Night" is a time for the freshmen to find their place in the Wartburg society. Each campus organization is on hand to recruit members and publicize its activities.

Senate also engages in other activities to promote student interest. Homecoming, Snow Weekend, a tutorial program in the Waterloo schools, and a draft counseling service are among its programs. Senate action was taken to put a campus phone in the library and donate funds to the Pops Concert. Each spring an emphasis is placed on political involvement as the Nominating Convention is held to elect the new Student Body President.

Vari-Colored Numbers Distinguish Artist Series

Providing the Wartburg College-Waverly Community with a greater appreciation of the fine arts, the 1969-70 Artist Series included a diversified schedule of performers.

Opening the season was all the enchantment of the second act of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite" performed by the National Ballet of Canada. "Solitaire, a Kind of Game for One" and the "Four Temperaments" were also included in this sellout engagement.

Wartburg College enthusiastically welcomed Malcolm Frager at the second Artist Series performance in November. Frager's award-winning technique and unusual clarity enchanted the Wartburg audience as they have captured other audiences of the United States and Europe.

An inspiring jaunt into the great musical past, the New York Pro Musica came to Wartburg in January. Sacred cathedral music, lusty songs of fifteenth century Germany and music from the courts of Spain combined to create an unusual performance of musical masterpieces.

Considered by the New York Times to have "one of the most beautiful natural baritones that the generation has produced," Robert Merrill performed in February. His magnificent tone and dramatic sound justified his fame as one of America's best loved music personalities.

Based on Alexander Dumas' drama "The Lady of the Camelias," Verdi's opera "La Traviata" completed the Artist Series in March. "La Traviata" has always had a deep hold on opera audiences since its premiere in 1853.

Strong team balance and able leadership led the Wartburg harriers to a season's mark of 5—2. Doug Beck, undefeated in all meets, paced the Knights to a second-place finish in the conference meet, a second place in the NAIA District 15 meet, and a first place in the Les Duke Invitational.

Doug Beck was voted most valuable runner in the league. Beck's record-breaking activities include a new course record of 21:34 for the Les Duke Invitational, and an NAIA course record of 25:51.7. Bruce Coleman joins Beck as Wartburg's contribution to the All District 15 Team.

Knights finished 17th in the NAIA nationals held in Oklahoma City. Beck took 16th place in individual competition. The harriers competed in the five-mile event with the nation's best small-college runners.

Combination springer, long jumper, and distance runner, Doug Beck led the track squad in scoring during the indoor season. Tallying 35 points in four meets, Beck set two school records for the Knights: a time of 4:24.8 in the mile and 9:47.5 in the two-mile. Walt Harrington took second with 22 points, his best effort being a long jump of 21'1/4". Other new highs were made by Jim Hunnicutt, who ran the 60-yard high hurdles in :08.0; Rod Holt, who turned a 2:21.6 in the 1000-yard run; Paul Danielson, who put the shot 47'4 1/4"; and Lyle Slotten, who ran the 300 in :34.4.

The outdoor season was not without its records. Doug Beck ran the three-mile in 14:33.4; Bob Ritson pole vaulted 13'6"; and the distance medley was run in 10:31.7.

Baseball

Splitting double-headers with five teams in the conference, the Knights concluded the season with a .500 record and fourth place. Inclement weather kept the squad inside for drills early in the season, and the Knights had only one major practice before starting conference action. Despite this handicap, the overall season's record showed that Coach Oppermann again had a winning team.

Outstanding player Virg Erickson led the team's hitting with .446. This mark made him the leading hitter in the district and Area IV. He was named to the All District NAIA and NCAA teams and received honorable mention as All-American.

Top pitching was executed by Dan Van Syoc and Tom Cain. They will join six other starting players who will return for the 1969-70 season.

"Improvement" was the word for the netmen as they moved to third place in the conference. Led by Mike Kraus at No. 1 position and sparked by Tim Schumacher, the netmen showed exceptional determination.

Losing only Schumacher from this year's squad, the team indicates an improved conference finish for 1970.

Golf

1969 was a rebuilding season for the Knight linkmen. This was Lee Bondhus' second term as golf coach, as he filled in during the 1967 season.

This young team, with only one returning letterman, finished 7—5 in dual meets and sixth in the Iowa conference.

The best performance of the year was at the Drake Invitational when the Knights placed seventh among all colleges in Iowa.

It was a well-balanced conference with more weak teams than strong. Central and William Penn tied for first. However, the Knights defeated Central in the last meet of the year.

Varsity team members included seniors Rich Guard and John Johnston; junior Stan Benson; sophomore Fred Grawe; and freshman Dennis Czelik. Rounding out the team were Mark Hoth and Paul Bruns.

Wartburg's grapplers began a convincing season with a squad showing much improvement. Coach Walker expected the lack of experience to hamper early season action. Despite the absence of veterans, the team was "basically better than last year," according to Walker.

Returning letterman Tom Turner resumed his career after being ineligible last winter. Turner was the Iowa Conference Champ at 145 in his freshman and sophomore years. Also returning were Joe Breitbach, 126; Tom Young, 142; Gene Baker, 158; Mark Mueller, 167; and Greg Slager, 177.

Competing at the University of Northern Iowa Tournament, Wartburg gave one of its better showings of recent years by winning 14 of 29 matches in the Amateur Athletic Union sanctioned meet. Joe Breitbach took third place for the only individual win.

Wartburg placed third in the Lea Tournament, behind host college Lea and Southwest Minnesota. Tom Turner and Greg Slager were individual champions at the meet. Turner was also named the Most Valuable Wrestler in the meet.

A combination of too many untried players and key injuries which cost the grid team its top rusher, pass receiver, punter, and linebacker quickly dispelled any chance of repeating last year's performance. The Knights again ended the season in the second division with a 3—4 IIAC record.

Leading passer, John Burke, threw for 980 yards and five touchdowns in six games, and led total offensive action with 1,018 yards. Gary Nelson gained 521 yards on the ground in five starts.

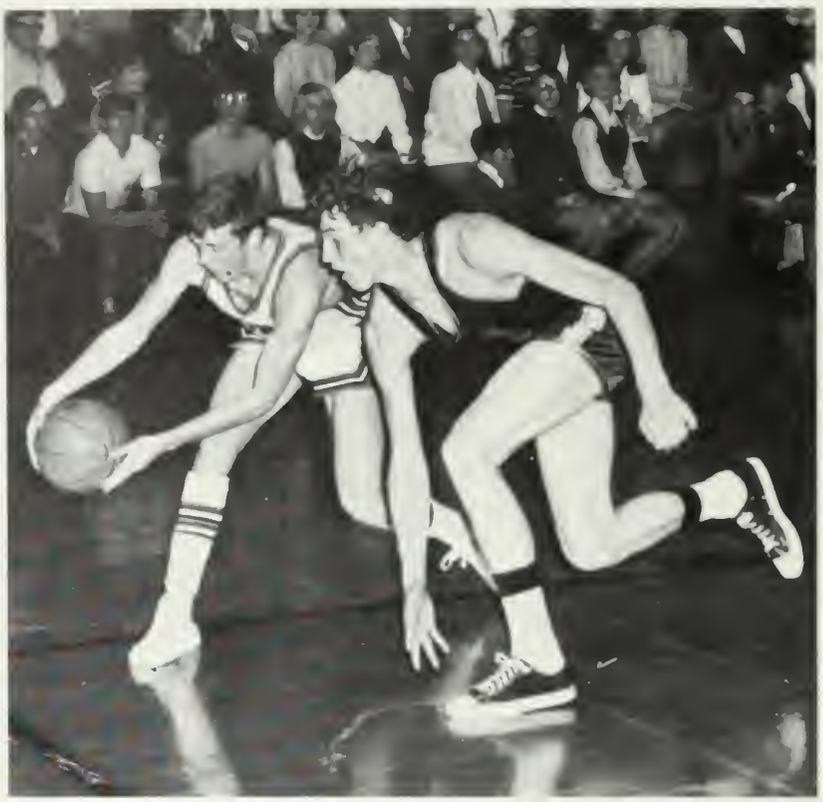

Senior Mike Wittenburg paced in pass receiving with 23 catches for a total of 320 yards. Until his injury, split end Jim Hotz caught 21 passes for 313 yards and 3 touchdowns. Breaking a team record was a 39.3-yard punt average by Tom Zackery.

Linebacker Connie Hellerich was named Most Valuable Player in the Iowa Conference for the 1969 season by the league coaches. Hellerich led the Knights with 84 tackles. The senior captain was one of three Wartburg players to be named to the All-Conference squad. Guard Paul Flynn and running back Gary Nelson were chosen for the offensive teams of the Iowa Conference.

Nine school records were broken or tied during the season. They include: most team field goals, 4—lowest rushing total by opponent in one game, 91 against Dubuque—lowest passing total by opponent in one game, 0 by Albert Lea—individual rushing career, 2,369 by Gary Nelson—most passes received by one person in one game, 11 by Jim Hotz—most pass-receiving yardage in one game, 141 by Jim Hotz—best punting average, 39.9 by Zackery —most field goals by an individual, 3 by Phil Smoker—most career field goals, 4 by Phil Smoker.

Basketball

Knight basketball has indeed become a legend at Wartburg. The Knights proved repeatedly to Wartburg fans and to the Iowa Conference that they are number "1".

Coach Lewis "Buzz" Levick and the Knights were faced with what was thought to be the toughest conference competition in many years. The secret of the Knights' success was Levick's ability to get all the players to play as a team as they shattered record after record. Although not as consistent as in the past, the team was better offensively and contained fine individual talent.

The starting lineup was especially impressive:

All American senior G. E. Buenning is perhaps the best all-round player in Wartburg history. Besides being the team's top scorer, he is one of Wartburg's eight players to score over one thousand points in their career. G. E. is indeed a complete ball player.

Jim Barkema, also a senior, in his first year as a regular was the top defensive forward and a very aggressive rebounder.

Junior Tom Manchester is thought to be one of the best guards in Wartburg history. He possesses keen shooting ability and speed.

Virgil Erickson, a senior, was the Knights' fiercest competition and was a defensive threat to any opponent.

Derry Brunscheen is the tallest regular senior and is known for his rebounding ability.

Wartburg's bench strength was the strongest in years. Fred Grawe, an aggressive rebounder, and Paul Bruns, a backup guard, were integral parts of the team.

Coach Levick holds many noteworthy awards. He has been named Area Four Coach of the Year, Coach of Iowa, and was in contention for the national Coach of the Year award.

Abda-el

Promoting Christian fellowship and recreation was the primary goal of Abda-el at its monthly meetings. Under the direction of president Dave Ufkes, vice-president Cindy Yess, and secretary-treasurer Mary Robinson, Abda-el provided an enriching atmosphere for those students interested in full- or part-time church work.

Picnicking in Cedar Falls, favor making after a chili supper, and caroling to Bartels Home, St. Joseph Hospital, and Waverly shut-ins were sponsored by the club. Abda-el also sold "student labor" at a slave auction as a money raising activity.

David Simonson, a missionary from Tanzania, spoke to club members and other interested students at a luncheon meeting.

World Affairs Forum

World Affairs Forum was organized to nourish the understanding of man, recognizing differences but seeing these as educational and binding.

President Jossiah Bavu, vice-president Glen Slack, and secretary-treasurer Ellen Van Dyke with the aid of faculty adviser Mr. Leslie Odone, planned a program involving the African students, who told of their respective countries. The group also sponsored a dance and sent four students to the model United Nations in Iowa City.

Mr. Odone led some of the meetings, and others were led by one or more of the fifteen members of the organization.

American Chemical Society

Under the direction of officers Norm Wangberg, president; Richard Ellis, vice-president; Glen Mieling, secretary; and Bill Brunsvold, treasurer, the American Chemical Society endeavored to promote the interest of chemistry on campus.

ACS sold laboratory coats to all interested chemistry students mainly as a service project but also with an end result of raising money.

The members were treated to off-campus speakers from the University of Iowa, Iowa State University, Argonne National Laboratory, and Borg-Warner Corporation, an industrial concern. An off-campus field trip was also planned.

Wartburg Players

The main project of the Wartburg Players during the 1969-70 season was the organization and presentation of a Shakespearean Festival with three other Iowa colleges. "Taming of the Shrew," by the Upper Iowa players, Waldorf's presentation of "The Merry Wives of Windsor," "Will Shakespeare, an Experiment," an original from Luther college, and Wartburg's "Othello" were the offerings presented. For this festival, the stagecraft class constructed an Elizabethan set, and each play was presented on it in the Little Theatre.

A new system of ranking evolved from the rewritten constitution. An entering player is ranked a novice, and can be nominated by his crew chief for apprenticeship because of his work and capability. The board (officers and all players who have attained the manager level in two areas) elect this person to the master level. The highest level is that of manager.

Officers for the Fall Term were Randy Wright, Grand Court Jester; Adele Pederson, scribe; and Sue Willms, exchequer. Winter Term officers were Dave Boedy, Grand Court Jester; Sandy Sass, scribe; and Ann Phillip, exchequer.

Business Students Association

Objectively exploring the opportunities in business, Business Students Association has become acquainted with the various job offerings, business trends, and investment procedures through speakers, both from on and off campus, and films.

Officers Paul Kallestad, president; Dave Christianson, vice-president; Liz Meyer, secretary; Larry Judas, treasurer; and Linda Eddy, publicity chairman, led the group into exploration of the field.

The members did portfolios for the Corporation Education Program. This program entails gathering and assembling financial information of the companies participating and presenting it.

Men's Coordinating Board

Changing its representation to include off-campus house presidents, MCB worked on proposed changes such as autonomous dorms and the right of 21-year-olds to choose their own housing. Under chairman Fred Gremmels, vice-chairman Jerry Hansen, and secretary-treasurer Tom Kern, MCB sponsored a dance and the Homecoming Yell-Like-Hell Contest.

Castle

Publishing the literary work of Wartburg's students, the Castle came out in two issues, containing artwork, photography, poetry, and prose.

Jeanne Carroll and Sue Hix were co-editors for the first issue while Sue Hix and Lois Schrage shared editorial duties for the April Castle. Mr. K. D. Briner and Mr. Samuel Michaelson were advisers.

Prizes in the January issue were: first award poetry, Steven C. Noah; second, Dennis Buchholz; third, Carolyn Fruehling and Wayne Stier.

CASTLE: Jeanne Carroll, Lois Schrage, Sue Hix, Pete Balassa, Carolyn Fruehling.

FORTRESS STAFF—STEPS: Jan Mittelstadt, Linda Hamann. PORCH: Barb Fritz, Chris Nelson, Jean Schonscheck, Jim Bausch, Carol Shimmer, Tonie Ewoldt, Judy Kay.

BELOW: Utilizing the new two-room office in Neumann House, staff members coordinate copy, layout and photography.

Fortress

The yearbook by any measure is an institution to collect the memorabilia of one school year and put it into some form of a cohesive collection, which will later bring floods of memories to the viewer. It has been the desire of the editorial staff to create a provocative book of records and memories. We are truly sorry that we must omit activities which occurred after mid-February. We know our basketball and wrestling teams finished a great year which we were not able to record. Spring has a special atmosphere on any campus. The new life coming forth brings a special glow to Wartburg. These memories must be caught and held in your hearts, as we could not capture them on the printed page for you. (Franz Klein was the inspiration for the artwork.)

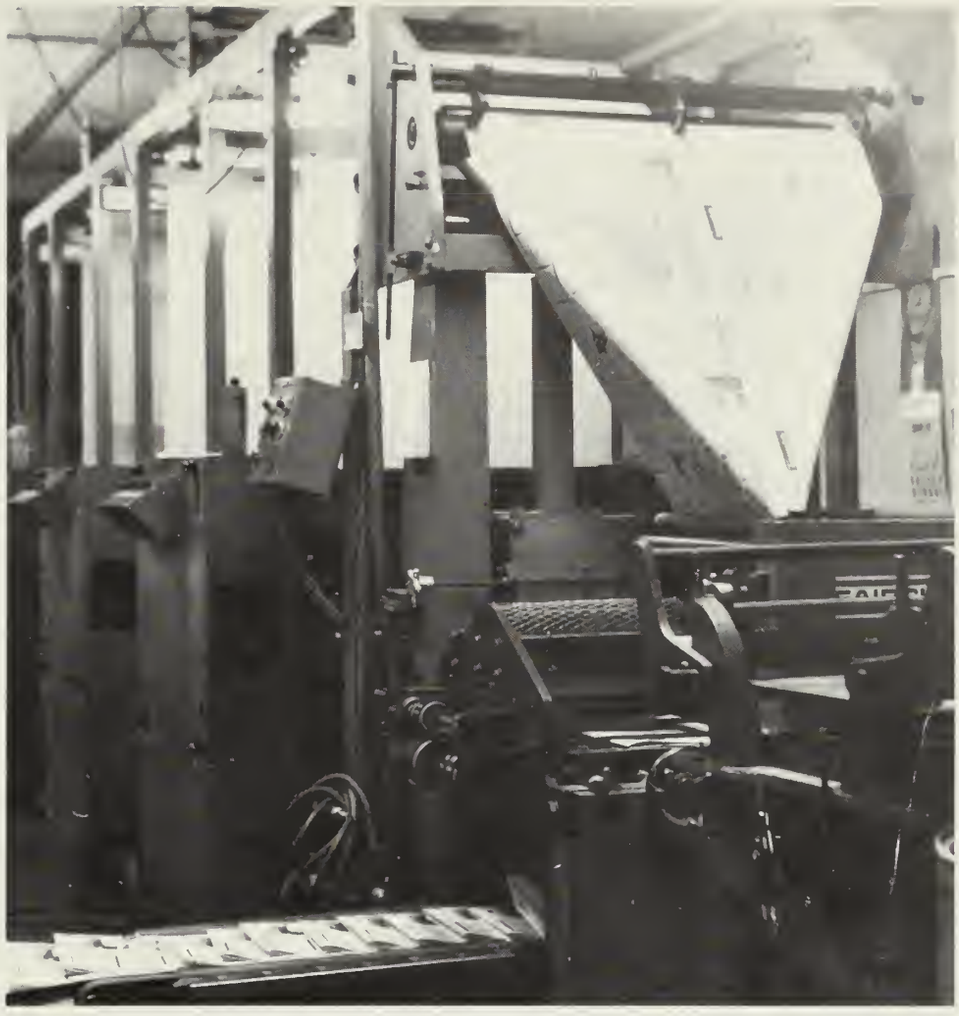

Trumpet

Moving into new offices in Neumann House, the Trumpet also took on a new look in format. Artwork, photos, and a main headline combined to create a total theme front page on several issues. A 24-page Homecoming issue was the first two-section paper, while green color stock paper was used for the Christmas Trumpet.

Each week, news editor Dick Lee, feature editor Kristi Becker, and sports editor Doug Bodine worked with Martha Moore and Ken Weitz to coordinate the staff's work.

The business staff, consisting of Dave Christianson, Paul Kramer, and Jim Hartje, balanced accounts, gathered ads, and regulated circulation.

EDITORIAL BOARD: Mrs. Margaret Garland, adviser; Martha Moore, editor; Ken Weitz, managing editor; Dave Christianson, business manager.

KWAR-FM

KWAR provided valuable experience in all fields of broadcast journalism for those students interested, while brightening campus life through varied music programs, educational offerings, and the broadcasting of away football and basketball games.

Weekend marathons flooded the phone lines and the air with confusing double-meaning dedications. Steve DeBerg, station manager, kept things happening smoothly and chaos from invading the station as the "voice of the Knights" covered campus events.

Young Republicans

Gaining insight into the branches of Iowa government, Young Republicans attended an "Involvement '70" conference in Des Moines on January 30.

Group members and officers Dennis Buchholz, president; Phil Specht, vice-president; Pat Kruger, secretary; and Jerry Brinkman, treasurer, sat in on House debate, spoke to Bremer County Representative L. W. Kehe, and visited Govenor Robert Ray.

Linda Longstreet, Martha Baerlin, Pat Kruger, and Roberta Becher attended the Leadership Training School in Washington, D. C., from March 10-14.

Choir

Rehearsal schedules, concert programs, maps of Europe . . . these represent the choir's year as members prepared for spring tours.

During the December 11 Christmas Carol Buffet, small groups of singers traveled through the Student Union entertaining students at a special dinner. At the choir's Christmas party members went sledding and then gathered at the coffeehouse to meet Santa.

Intensive rehearsals opened Choir Weekend (January 16-18). On Saturday evening contestants performed at a talent show and banquet in the Castle Room. The choir finished the weekend by performing at a workshop with the New York Pro Musica.

During the year the choir sang for campus church and hosted a High School Honor Choir at the Meistersinger Festival.

Preparations for two April weekend tours in Iowa and Minnesota combined with plans for a May 1-June 20 European tour to six countries.

Concert Band

Carrying out an American theme, the Wartburg College Concert Band combined religious, traditional, and contemporary music in preparation for a spring tour to Colorado.

Seated in a large U formation, the band surrounded the congregation at the November 16 "Hymn Sing." Directed by Dr. Robert Lee the whole band and instrumental groups provided support for congregational singing of traditional hymns.

Snow Weekend was officially opened with a selection of Americana numbers. Ranging from the traditional American marches to a dramatic presentation of Monte Tubb's "Sutras '68," the concert featured tuba soloist Stanford Freese from Minneapolis.

Weeks in February were busy with rehearsals for Ban Aid Follies, a variety show with folk numbers, a Follies Dollies chorus line, and several comedy skits.

Segments from the preceding concerts were incorporated into the group's spring tour. Planning a concert presentation and ensembles, the band aimed for Colorado with concerts in Nebraska, South Dakota, and nearby states.

President Joel Sherer, vice-president Fred Henkelmann, secretary Gwen Hatcher, and treasurer Judy Feine, along with a representative from each class, comprised a band council. This group, responsible for the total look of the band, appointed committees and reviewed content for concerts, tour, and the Band Aid Follies.

Castle Singers

Love, hunger, big-business church, campus revolution, and communication—these were the topics of "Get It Together," presented by the Castle Singers in March at the Music Educators National Convention in Chicago.

Arranged by Dean Tellefson, this statement on contemporary society featured the Singers and Stage Band with a background of slides and films.

During the Christmas season, the group performed at the Christmas Carol Buffet. Bellringers and small madrigal groups traveled through the Student Union entertaining students. The Singers, led by president Don Loots and secretary Jane Ward, held their own Christmas party at the home of Dr. James Fritschel, director.

Young Democrats

Wartburg's chapter of Young Democrats has been working closely with the parent party. Members helped raise funds to rid the campus party of debt, set up a bulletin board to inspire more political awareness, worked with the parent party to canvass votes, and some of the members attended the spring state convention in Des Moines.

Officers who led this group of interested Democrats were: Val Gies, president; Janelle Eggert, vice-president; Barb Lehman, secretary; and Glen Slack, treasurer.

SEA

Perspectives of the teaching profession were the basis for SEA's activities. A panel of first-year teachers discussed the problems and preparations for teaching. Mr. Schemmel spoke about procuring a job, and officers from the Des Moines SEA presented information on contracts and salaries. "First Day, First Year," a movie of teaching experiences was shown, and a presentation of non-graded school systems was given.

Officers were: Allan Roush, president; Jan Goltz, secretary; and Sue Henderson, treasurer.

Passavants

Open to all students with an interest in social work and service, Passavants invited Mrs. Ruth Anderson, former Wartburg professor, to speak at the October meeting on Waterloo elections. Dr. James Baines visited the group in February to explain the Urban Studies Program.

During the year, president Phil Specht, vice-president Mary Mether, secretary-treasurer Connie Long, and adviser Mrs. Lola Reppart led the group in discussing support for campus movements such as the National Moratorium.

Passavant members reached out to serve by visiting the Bartels Home in Waverly and by tutoring underprivileged at the Jesse Cosby Center in Waterloo.

Women's Legislative Council-Women's Judicial Council

ABOVE: Completing the sign-out process, sophomore Jan Mittelstadt fills in her destination and mode of travel before leaving for mid-term break.

Drawing representatives from individual housing units, WLC reviewed and revised existing regulations for women students. During the spring of 1969, the group helped lengthen women's hours to midnight on weekdays and Sundays and 2 a.m. on weekends. The key system was also extended to junior women and those over 21.

President Pat Thudium appointed committees to study proposed amendments, the sign-out system, phone hours, and a crosswalk to the Manors. One of the main committees studied the use of profit from pop machines in the dorms. Proposals included sponsoring a basketball game broadcast over KWAR and starting a scholarship fund for Wartburg women.

The Women's Judicial Council, an offshoot of WLC, handled disciplinary cases brought to its attention by dorm councils and dorm head residents.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS: Connie Two, Kim Ziessow, Junelle Lehmann, Priscilla Beane, Phyllis Stinner, Gaye Ostland, Darlene Hesterberg.

Hans Sachs Cercle Francais

Stimulating interest in the French language and customs, Le Cercle Francais invited Sue Hix, Jerry Fuerstenberg, and Peter Balassa to show slides of their summer session in France. Mr. Timmer spoke at another meeting about his diplomatic career in Haiti.

Hans Sachs Verein, led by president Cindy Imhoff, vice-president Jerry Preston, and secretary-treasurer Pearl Zellmer, held a Christmas banquet in the Castle Room and traveled to the Amana Colonies' Octoberfest.

The Faschingfest, an evening of costumes, dancing, and games held in the coffeehouse, was co-hosted by the two clubs.

Pi Sigma

President Cindy Banks, vice-president Sue Kuehl, secretary Debbie Porter, treasurer Joan Landgrebe, and historian Joanne McDonough opened the year with a September Big Sis-Little Sis get-acquainted tea.

Sportswear and dresses from the Carriage House in Waverly highlighted a Homecoming fashion show arranged by Sue Kuehl.

At the Christmas ball, "A Season of Love," about three hundred people danced to the music of "The Top Brass." Evelyn Davis was chairman of the dance held in Buhr Lounge on December 6. During the evening, Sue Kuehl was crowned Christmas Ball Queen.

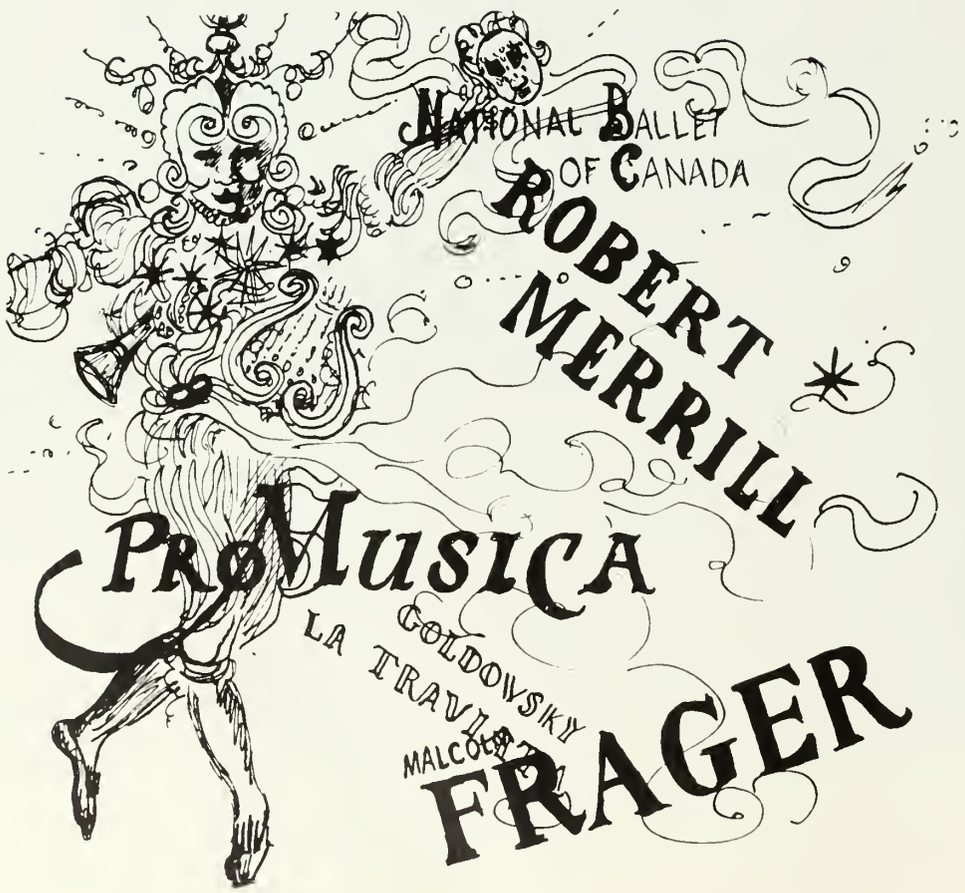

During the year the thirty members heard guest speakers, such as Miss Katherine Aden, dean of women, who spoke at the February meeting on "Woman's Role in Today's Society."

Ushers Club

"Sir, I'm sorry, but you are in the wrong seat." "No, I'm not," said the patron. "My seat is CJ8." "That's correct, sir, but this is CK8."

Led by officers Dave Harms, president; Jim Hunnicutt, vice-president; and Sharon Dahn, secretary, the Ushers Club cleared up misunderstandings such as these and set the pre-performance tone at cultural events. Members of a service club, these students ushered at all the Artist Series presentations, plays in the Little Theatre, pops concerts, and other entertainments.

For those members who ushered at four events or more the sponsoring Artist Series committee held a spring banquet.

Chi Gamma

"When? . . . OK, I'll be there in about ten minutes . . . Gosh, I hope I can remember all those facts about the Chapel-Aud and the organ, and the library and how many books it has, and those sports statistics. Oh, well, here goes another one . . .

"Hi! . . . this is the Chapel-Aud . . . Wartburg Hall . . . the Union . . . The Castle Room is used for banquets. Oh, yes, this is a painting of the Wartburg in Germany . . . The dorms, sorry about the mess; it's grub day . . . The newest addition, the Science Hall, was built . . . I really like Wartburg, it's going someplace, and I hope you'll like it, if you decide it's the place for you."

Women's Recreation Association

Each Wednesday evening is a noisy one in Knights Gymnasium, arena for WRA volleyball. This year Wiederanders House and Centennial III won hard battles for first and second places in the tournament.

Stimulating interest in recreational activities, WRA sponsored similar tournaments for basketball, softball, and coed badminton.

Club officers—president Sue Peterson, vice-president Ruth Tracy, secretary Bonnie Buma, and treasurer Linda Wolff—plus two representatives from each women's dorm—formed the WRA council.

Members attended a spring sports day at the University of Northern Iowa, and representatives traveled to a convention of Iowa WRA clubs in Boone. Several members played on a girls' intercollegiate basketball team which won its first three games.

Physical Education Club

The Physical Education Club, organized to unite the group as a whole and to familiarize the members with different areas of physical education, were led by officers Gary Fober, president; Kathy Bausch, vice-president; Diane Hobert, secretary, and Al Roush, treasurer. Program directors for men and women were Lyle Wendland and Bobbi Comer.

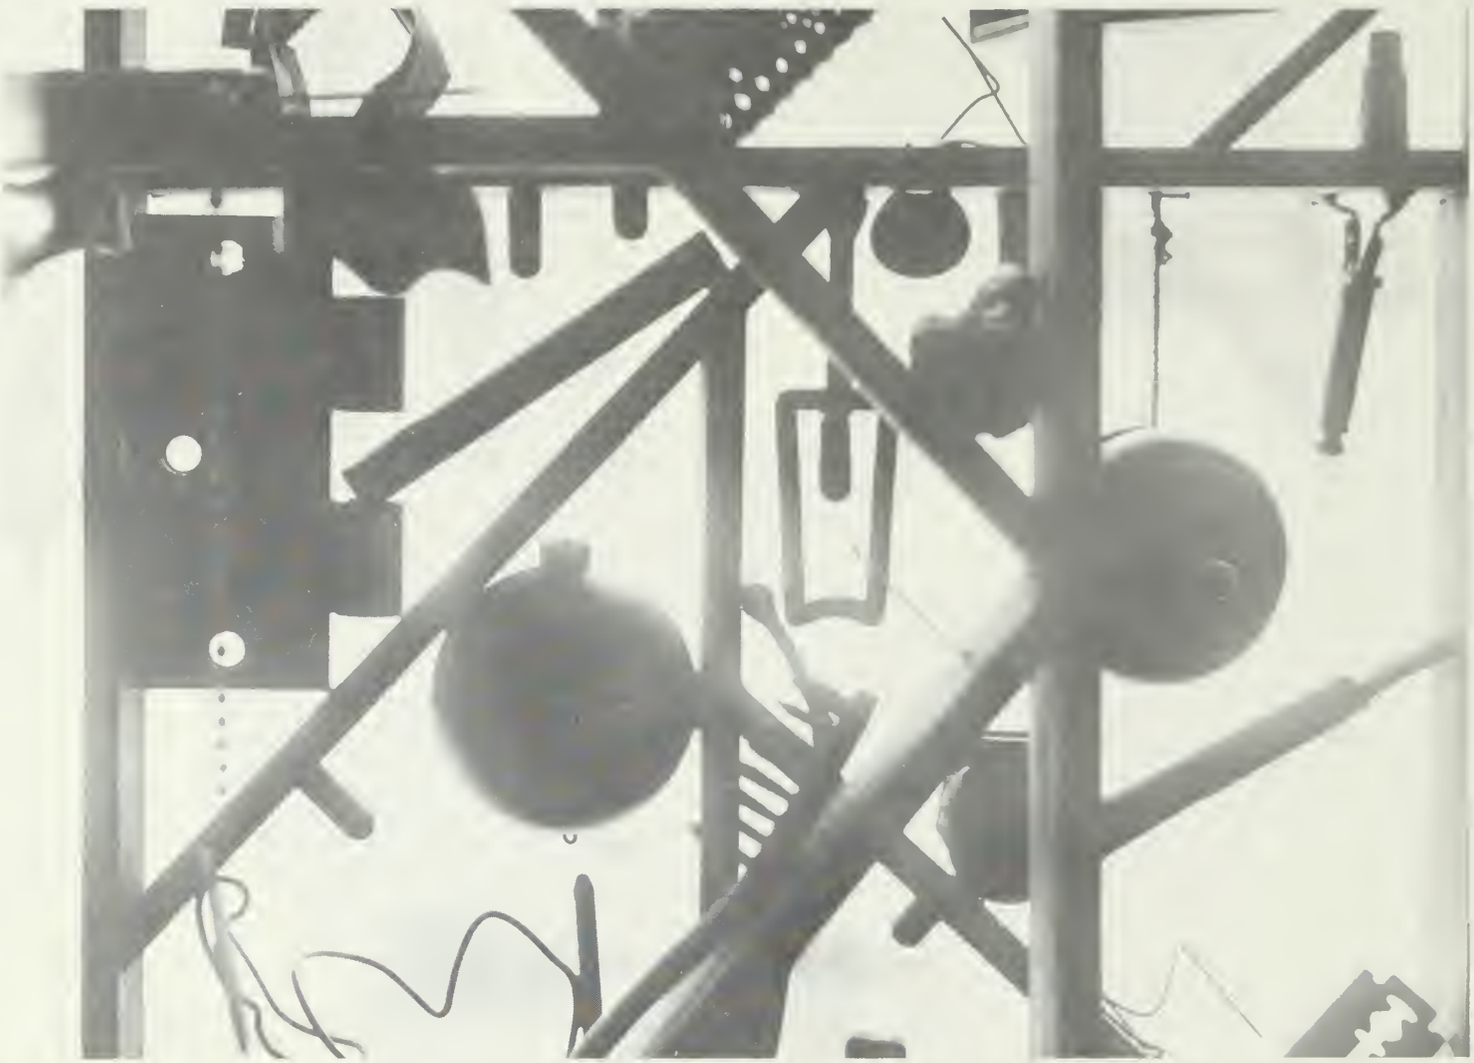

As a service project, the club is supervising the gym on weekends, when it is normally closed, so that students may use the gym.

Dr. Ed Schlachtenhaufen spoke to the group, relating his study of urbanization with physical education. He also conducted a sensitivity group session.

Those fleeting hours

The rhythm of tiny feet taps out the fleeting hours of childhood.
The procession quickens into youth, maturity, retirement.
A life has been lived.

The thoughtful man
plucks a portion of time from out the fleeting hours and leaves it behind as a symbol of his concern for those he loves.

Life insurance from Aid Association for Lutherans is such a symbol . . . a symbol of planning for the future.
It is a mark a man leaves behind as a vivid reflection of someone who loved enough to prove it.

Aid Association for Lutherans Appleton, Wisconsin Fraternalife Insurance
